Which lists and abstracts, thus completed in conformity with the revisions and equalizations made by the commissioners aforesaid, shall have the same force and effect as if they had been completed, registered, recorded, under the direction of the commissioners aforesaid, agreeably to the provisions of the above mentioned acts. The supervisor aforesaid, shall be allowed, in addition to his annual compensation, the rate of three dollars per diem, for each and every day employed by him, in completing or superintending the completion of the lists and abstracts aforesaid, provided, that the whole amount of the said additional allowance, shall not exceed five hundred dollars, and the said allowance, as well as the compensation of the clerks employed by virtue of this section, shall be paid out of the moneys appropriated, or which may hereafter be appropriated for defraying the expences, incident to the valuation of houses and lands, and the enumeration of slaves, within the United States.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the supervisor of the district of South Carolina be, and he is hereby authorized and directed, as soon as the assessment of the direct tax to be levied, and collected in the state of South Carolina, by virtue of the act intituled "An act to lay and collect a direct tax, within the United States," shall have been completed, to appoint for the whole of the said state, one or more surveyors of the revenue; who shall be authorized to make out the lists containing the sums payable, according to such assessment, for every dwelling house, tract, or lot of land and slave, within the said state, which lists shall have the same force and effect, as if they had been made for each assessment district, by a district surveyor of the revenue; the surveyor or surveyors of the revenue, thus appointed for the whole state of South Carolina, shall likewise perform all the other duties, exercise all the powers, and receive the same compensation, which by virtue of the provisions still in force of any former act, or acts, were directed to be performed, exercised, and received by the surveyors of the revenue for the several assessment districts; and so much of any act or acts, as directed the appointment of one surveyor of the revenue for each assessment district, is in far as relates to the state of South Carolina, hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That the several supervisors, or officers acting as supervisors, may with the approbation of the secretary of the treasury, unite, whenever such measure shall be thought expedient for the better collection of the direct tax, one or more assessment districts into one district, and appoint only one collector of the said tax, for the assessment districts thus united, anything in any former act or acts, to the contrary notwithstanding.

Sec. 4. ### College of New-Jersey.

The Trustees of the College of New-Jersey are happy to announce to the public the perfect restoration of the College Edifice lately destroyed by fire, with many improvements in its structure calculated to guard it against a like calamity in future. They have erected also several new buildings, which have greatly increased the advantages for study, & the accommodations which the institution can afford, both to its Professors and its Students. In comparing the circumstances of the college at the period when they lately solicited the public liberality in its favor, with its present state, they cannot but be deeply affected by the contrast which they witness. At that time the noble structure erected by their predecessors as a nursery for Science and Piety was a heap of ruins; their library was consumed; their pupils dispersed, and they were wholly destitute of funds, either to replace their losses by the fire, or to provide for the instruction of the youth. They now see its buildings not only restored and improved, but greatly augmented, three new professorships established, the number of the pupils increased much beyond what it has ever been at any former period.

With devout reverence the Trustees would, first of all, acknowledge their obligations, and offer their thanks to Almighty God, in whose gracious protection they confide in the time of their distress, and who, holding the hearts of all men in his hands, has inclined the friends of learning and religion so liberally to aid them in their pious work. And in the propitious and signal smiles of Divine Providence on their efforts, they hope they see an indication, and a pledge, that the institution over which they preside is destined to future and distinguished usefulness.

In the next place, they offer, with great sincerity and warmth, their gratitude to all those public-spirited individuals, in various parts of the United States, who have so liberally contributed to the benevolent and pious designs now so happily completed. To many of these they are indebted for their own generous contributions. To many they are under additional obligations for their active and friendly aid to the agents of the Corporation in soliciting benefactions, and for their cordial and benevolent exertions, in various ways, for the benefit of the funds of the College.

While the Trustees endeavor to acquit themselves of the debt of gratitude which they have contracted during their successful exertions in behalf of the College, they judge it to be a part of their duty, and one, they trust, which will not be unacceptable to the Public, to lay before them the advantage which the institution now possesses for the Education of Youth, the course of studies, and some beneficial changes in the mode of conducting them, which have been lately introduced.

The establishment of the College consists of a President, who is also Professor of Moral Philosophy, &c. four other Professors, and two Tutors, under whom is appointed a Teacher of French, for the benefit of those who are desirous of acquiring that language, and who can redeem time for that purpose from their ordinary classical studies.

In order to enter the Freshman Class, it is necessary to have read the Evangelists, or other equivalent portions of the Greek Testament, and to be acquainted with the Latin authors usually read in the schools, as far as the Aeneid of Virgil. To enter the Sophomore Class, it is necessary farther to have read Salust, Cicero's Orations, the Greek Testament, Lucian's Dialogues, and to understand Vulgar Arithmetic. The Lower Classes are entirely occupied in the study of the Latin and Greek Languages, of Arithmetic, Geography, and the Roman Antiquities, under the direction of the Professor of Languages, with the assistance of the Tutors, except on Sundays, when they are employed in studying the History of the Bible, and the Principles of the Christian Religion, agreeably to the tenets of the respective churches to which they belong. These classes, on account of the extreme youth of the young gentlemen who compose them, are required to study, during the whole day, under the immediate eye of their Professor and Tutors. For this purpose safe, convenient, well lighted and airy apartments have been provided.

The members of the superior classes are permitted to study in their private chambers, except in those hours in which they are required to attend their respective Professors in the public halls of recitation and lectures. On Sundays, after the public worship is ended, the junior class attends lectures by the Professor of Theology, calculated to explain the difficulties which occur in the sacred writings, and refute the objections which have been made against particular parts of them, by the aids of History, of Antiquities, and the Principles of a sound Criticism. The senior class attends lectures on the Evidence of Natural and Revealed Religion. It is considered by the Trustees as an object of primary importance in the course of education, to impress upon the minds of studious youth just sentiments of the nature, as well as a full conviction of the truth of religion, as being the surest basis of the public morals. On the remaining days of the week, these classes attend lectures by the different Professors, the one on the several branches of speculative and practical mathematics, on Natural Philosophy, Astronomy, Chemistry and Natural History; the other on the Elements of Logic, of Belles-Lettres, of History, and of Moral and Political Science.

It is with great pleasure that the Trustees inform the public, that the losses which the institution suffered in its apparatus for Experimental Philosophy have been, in a great measure, repaired; and that they have been enabled to replace the library, which was destroyed in the conflagration, by a most valuable collection of near four thousand volumes; and, by a small increase in the fees of tuition, means have been adopted for annually making considerable additions to the library, as well as for the accommodation of the increasing number of students. Notwithstanding these internal resources, which the Trustees have been enabled to establish, inasmuch as the institution has been founded, and hitherto entirely supported by individual munificence, they solicit for the augmentation of the number of their books, the continued aid of the friends of science. This they can do with the greater confidence, as they themselves derive no emolument from their office, but actually incur considerable expence, and make no small sacrifices of time and of ease, solely from their zeal to promote the interests of Learning and Religion. In particular, they will acknowledge, with due sentiments, to those authors who may furnish the college with a copy of their works; and to every Inventor and Improver of a Useful Machine, who may bestow on it model and explanation of his improvement or invention. A handsome receptacle is provided in the hall of the library for all such models, designed to display them to the best advantage. All specimens, likewise, calculated to illustrate Natural History, and all specimens of Elegant Executions in the Fine Arts, will be thankfully received.

The Trustees beg leave to inform the Public, that the necessary expences of Education in the College, excluding those of Clothing and Chamber Furniture, and including those of Tuition, Chamber Rent, Board, Books, Wood, Lights, the Use of the Library, Servant's Wages and Washwoman's bills, do not amount to more than one hundred and eighty dollars a-year. And beyond this sum, except for Clothing and Travelling Expenses, Parents are earnestly requested to be very frugal in the allowance of money granted to their sons, and to refuse the payment of all debts contracted on credit. The Governors and Instructors of the College have found, from long experience, that nothing is more pernicious to the morals and the studious habits of the youth committed to their care, than an unrestricted credit, or excessive remittances of money. And every Parent may be absolutely assured that, if his son is solicitous to procure from him much larger sums, under the idea that the life of living at the College requires them or under ANY PRETENCE whatever, he has formed some imprudent connexions.

Lastly, the College of New-Jersey having been originally founded with a particular view to promote the Interest of Religion, as well as of Learning, by training up men of piety and talents for the Ministry of the Gospel, the Trustees have ever been attentive to this great object; and they are now enabled, by the blessing of Divine Providence, to offer more ample encouragement than usual to young men destined for that sacred profession. A certain number will find the greater part of their necessary expences, during the whole course of their education, defrayed out of funds, for that purpose, placed by benevolent persons in the hands of the Corporation. And ALL who are actually engaged in the study of Theology, and in the course of immediate preparation for the Ministry, at whatever inflation they may have received the preliminary parts of their education, may, on producing proper testimonials of character, pursue their farther studies here at the moderate charge of one dollar a-week for board, and enjoy the assistance of the President and Professor of Theology without any fee for instruction. This Professor, in addition to the lectures which he gives to the Classes in the College, purposed to give lectures to the Theological Students twice in the week; to hold a Theological Society once in the week for the discussion of important questions immediately relative to the Science of Divinity; to teach the Hebrew Language to those who need it, and to superintend their improvement in the Greek and French Languages.

Such are the advantages which the Trustees have been enabled, under the blessing of Divine Providence, and through the favor of the Public, to secure to the institution under their care: and such are the prospects which they can now, with pleasure and with confidence, hold out to the Friends of Religion and of Learning....The public benevolence which has been manifested, in so distinguished a manner to this College, will stimulate their exertions to render it still more useful to their country and to the church.

Signed by Order of the Board.
SAM. S. SMITH, President
JOHN MACLEAN, Clerk.

Lamp-Lighter,

WILL stand the ensuing season, which will commence the tenth day of March, and end the tenth day of July next, at my farm, on David's fork of Elkhorn, in Fayette county, and may cover mares at the low price of Ten Dollars the season for each mare; but may be discharged by the payment of Eight Dollars, if paid within the season. Twenty Dollars to insure a mare with foal, to be returned if such could not be the case, if the mare remains the property of the person who put her to the horse; Five Dollars the single leap, paid down when the mare is covered; and in every instance eighteen pence to the groom.

LAMP-LIGHTER's figure is generally given up by a number of good judges as any in this state, to be equal with any horse in it, if not superior, and his blood equal to any horse on the continent. It is all most needless for me to say anything about his colts, as they can, with every kind of propriety, answer for themselves; it being universally given up, that he is equal to any foal getter in the state, if not superior. There are a number of his colts to be seen in this County and Woodford. There are a number of colts amongst the Lamp-Lighter colts, that were got by three different imported horses, that covered at more than double what the Lamp-Lighter covered at, and it is given up in a general way, that the Lamp-Lighter colts are equal to any of them if not superior—and it is well known, that the best mares went to those high-going horses. If a horse has the name, or only the word imported, it has been the case, or thought, that no further inquiry or question were necessary; but it is a most undeniable truth, that there are as fine full bred horses that were bred in America, or even in the state of Kentucky, as any that can be brought from England; for if a horse is of good blood and fully thoroughbred, what can be asked for more?

LAMP-LIGHTER is a horse completely calculated to get the most elegant saddle horses, as he moves well and has every part of activity. LAMP-LIGHTER is eight years old, a good bay, fully fifteen hands three inches high; Lamp-lighter was got by the old Union, old Union was got by Shakespear, his dam by Nonpareil, his grand dam by the imported horse Traveller, his great grand dam was Pocahontas; she was imported by the Honorable William Byrd esq. deceased, of the Arabian Camp-lighter's dam was the noted

LINES.

Adapted to the Air of "As beseiveth my love."

AS twilight grew pale in the west,
I pensively watch'd its decline;
I thought on the friend I love best,
And wish'd that his virtues were mine.
Whilst fancy delighted to dwell,
On scenes that to memory were dear
I knew not alas that they fell,
Till I felt on my bosom a tear.

A dusky shade stole o'er the scene,
The landscape was hid from my view,
Its vernal and beautiful green,
Was wrap'd in dusky evenings hue.
The moon her faint crescent display'd,
Yet visible scarce to the eye;
It seemed to my fancy it said,
"So brief are thy moments of joy."

And few are the joys I require,
And few are the wifhes that rise;
Yet I own I do fondly desire,
The respect of the good and the wise:

Oh! grant me kind heaven but this,
I would not to many be known:
And to fill up my measure of bliss,
I ask the elatein of—but one.

"Trifles light as Air."

A FELLOW who los'd laughing better than his meat, put a number of horns into a basket, and went up and down the street at the west end of the town crying, "Newfruit, newfruit, bo," as loud as he could bawl. Lord G— hearing the noise, put his head out of the drawing-room window, and asked the fellow to shew him his fruit,—which looking at, he asked him if he was not ashamed to disturb a quiet neighbourhood for nothing, "for who the d—l," added the Peer, "who the devil think ye, will buy horns?" "Well master," replied the fellow, "donot you put y—self in a passion,—though your are provided, I may meet with some that are not." L. P.

Travellers' Hall.

THE SUBSCRIBER

HAS lately been induced, from the rapid increase of his custom, to purchase a lot of ground, abutting that on which he lives, for the purpose of building a dining room and assembly room, each 54 by 32 feet 10 inches, with six additional lodging rooms, and intends to finish them before the ensuing winter; which, together with his Tavern and house, will occupy a front of near one hundred feet in the most agreeable part of the town, and in the centre of business, being on the highest part of the public square. He has considerably increased the furniture, &c. of his house and stables.—His domestics and servants are of the most faithful dispositions and properly qualified for the departments to which they are arranged.—He has a constant supply of the best stable forage, imported and country provisions, imported liquors, &c. of the best quality, foreign newspapers, &c. &c. and his ice will, most probably, last through the hot weather.

The distinguished preference which the first characters have already given him in his business, fills him with gratitude. He offers his sincere thanks to all his good friends, and begs leave to assure them, that neither his time nor his purse shall be spared in attempting to render the Travellers' Hall, a house of entertainment, for Gentle Guests only, equal to any in America.

Valuable Lands & Property in North Carolina, Kentucky, & Virginia.

ON the first Monday of April next, at seven o'clock in the evening, (if not previously disposed of at private sale) at the Merchant's Coffeehouse, in the city of Philadelphia, by order of the Assignee of M'Calmont & Boys, will be sold to the highest bidder, all the right, title and interest which they had and assigned for the benefit of their creditors in the Mortgages, Land and Property following:

A Mortgage dated 8th November 1799, by John Shaw to John Hamilton, of one fourth part of a Tract of Land in Swartz in Camden County, North Carolina, called "The New Lebanon Estate," containing 24,000 acres more or less.

A Mortgage dated 8th November 1799, by John Shaw and Mathias E. Sawyer to John Hamilton, of one half of a Tract of Land called "The Old Lebanon Estate," situated at the head of the County of Camden in North Carolina.

These two mortgages were given to secure the payment of a Bond dated 6th Sept. 1797, in which John Shaw and others are bound in the penal sum of $10,000 dollars, for the payment of $8,000 dollars, with interest, to John Hamilton, on or before the 22d of September, 1799; and were assigned by him (that part of the "Old Lebanon Estate" which he claims under M. E. Sawyer only excepted) to Samuel Boys on the 18th April, 1803, upon his paying to the Mortgage 5690 dollars, 46 cents being the amount of principal, interest and costs then due on the Mortgages. This assignment was made in pursuance of a decree of the Court of Equity, in the District of Edenton, and the consideration money advanced by the Assignee of M. & B. for the benefit of their creditors, and by their request.

A Mortgage dated 4th April, 1800, by John Shaw to M'Calmont and Boys, of one undivided fourth part of "The New Lebanon Estate," above described, and one undivided sixth part of "The Old Lebanon Estate," containing 7000 acres, more or less.

This mortgage is conditioned for the payment of a bond, in which John Shaw and William Shaw are bound for the payment of 5642l. 19s. Pennsylvania currency, to George M'Calmont, on or before the 20th June, 1800, with interest.

These three mortgages (excepting that part of the Old Lebanon estate which J. Hamilton claims under M. E. Sawyer) with the debts secured thereby, will be sold together. The immense value of the estates mortgaged, affording an inexhaustible supply of all kinds of lumber, and in the neighbourhood of and partly bounded by the Lebanon Canal, gives the most ample security for the mortgage money; and its amount will probably put it in the power of the purchaser to become entire owner of the shares of the estates mortgaged.

A Mortgage dated 6th Sept. 1799, by Robert Camp to George M'Calmont, of a Tract of Land in Prince William County, Virginia, on the main run of Occquan, for securing the payment of 850 dollars, with interest. This Mortgage is duly recorded, &c.

Also all the right and title of SAMUEL BOYS, and by him assigned for the benefit of his creditors, in the following valuable Tracts of Land in Kentucky.
